

YWAM ENGLAND PAKISTAN FLOOD APPEAL

“THIS IS A CATASTROPHE”
United Nations Aug 6th 2010

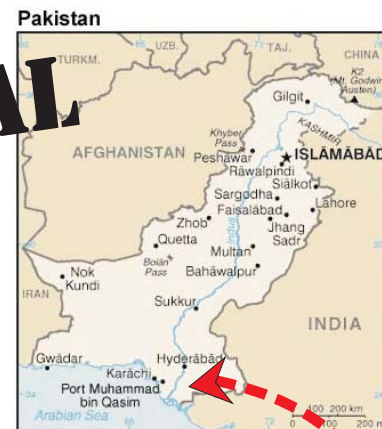

The worst monsoon rains in 80 years have caused unprecedented destruction and suffering throughout Pakistan. Flood waters are still sweeping down into the southern region, the bread basket of the country. At the end of this journey, to the west, lies Karachi, a fast growing city of 18 million, the capital of Sindh.

YOUTH WITH A MISSION is an international relief and interdenominational Christian agency involved in relief and development worldwide. YWAM Pakistan in Karachi has had previous experience of flood relief in Sindh and has Rapid Response Teams, on the ground, now delivering aid to remote groups who have been ignored for days and days.

WHAT ARE WE DOING? We are reaching out to people who have been evacuated in the Lower Sindh area. The provincial government has asked us to respond. Our survey showed that families needed a variety of different things : immediate food aid, water purifying tablets, hand held fans, waterproof sheeting to provide shelter from the rain and the burning sun. Some need cooking equipment, medicines and childrens' clothing. The situation is ongoing.

£20 will help one family with food and a handheld fan.

Most importantly, people need to know others care for them, that they are not alone in the face of such a calamity. It is times like this when the Body of Christ can unite to respond with unconditional compassion and love.

"It is unprecedented floods in our history," news agency AFP quoted military spokesman Major General Athar Abbas as saying. "We do not have the kind of resources to cope with a situation like this." August 2010
